Studio Pleun
INTERIEURS OP MAAT

Through its exquisite designs and personalised aesthetics, Studio Pleun Interiors showcases the creative prowess of its owner and founder, Pleun van Akkerveen. At the foundation of the creative studio's philosophy are eight unwavering core values: service, balance, partnership, harmony, hard work, freedom, impact and transparency. These values, instilled since the inception of the business in 2007, remain the guiding principles shaping every project and what began as a focus on styling has transformed into a comprehensive approach to creating full interior design concepts. One distinguishing aspect of Studio Pleun is its specialisation in residential spaces, particularly old and monumental buildings. Pleun collaborates closely with clients, sculpting warm homes that resonate with their personal tastes. The focus extends beyond mere conceptualisation; Studio Pleun delivers tangible results, demonstrating the founder's commitment to offering a complete service.

A significant accomplishment for Studio Pleun is the made-to-order curtain service, seamlessly integrated with interior and colour advice. This unique offering sets the studio apart, demonstrating a practical understanding of the challenges posed by irregular window shapes in historic structures. Pleun's ability to combine design with hands-on execution adds a layer of reliability that resonates with clients. A keen observer of European trends, Pleun notes the increasing use of sustainable and recycled materials in interior design. From curtain materials crafted from recycled plastic bottles to upholstery fabrics made from pure linen, Studio Pleun actively embraces environmentally conscious practices.

The judging panel was particularly impressed by the team of professionals that, led by Pleun, are committed to transforming spaces and breathing new life into homes. The small, dedicated team share a passion for creating personalised living spaces that transcend the standard. The balance between work and pleasure is delicately navigated, with each team member contributing their unique enthusiasm to the collaborative process. From core values that guide every decision to a hands-on approach that ensures tangible results, Studio Pleun exemplifies the epitome of exceptional interior design in the Netherlands.

Studio Pleun Interiors combines customer-centric core values, sustainability and hands-on expertise to craft personalised, exceptional interiors.
